

Something I like to do: getting notification of what's ringing on my phone to my laptop.
There is a solution for that: Linconnect! → <https://github.com/hauckwill/linconnect-server>

1. Installation

You need the server (check your package manager for linconnect-server) and the client:
<https://play.google.com/store/apps/details?id=com.willhauck.linconnectclient>

You need libnotify to work on your desktop see: How to

2. Connection

Launch the server

linconnect -server

On the Android device, follow the onscreen instruction, the device should discover by itself the server otherwise add it by hand.

Et voilà ! You can setup/filter which Application can send notifications
